

Environmental policy

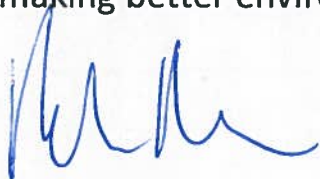

Adigo's business concept and products help accelerate the work towards a fossil-free society. Adigo offers our customers electric motor- and HMI solutions for vehicles and machines to replace fossil fuel-powered counterparts.

We fulfill our stakeholders' requirements and expectations, which we ensure through relevant and measurable goals.

We have identified freight as our greatest negative environmental impact and our focus is to reduce our impact through choice of suppliers based on global location, mode of transport, cargo loading and avoidance of express freight.

Adigo is proud of our production in modern facilities and our dedicated work to minimize residual waste / chemicals that help minimize negative environmental impact.

We are constantly working to increase our staff's awareness of and commitment to environmental issues and create opportunities for making better environmental choices.
